LET'S READ!:

Did you know that there are over 12,000 distinct species of ants in the world? There's many captivating facts about ants. Ants are social; they live together in a colony. The queen oversees the colony and can live a long time, for up to 30 years! Queen ants can lay over a million eggs in their lifetime. Worker ants can live for about 1-3 years.

Ants have a dominant strength that goes unmatched. One ant can lift 50 times its weight. Here's some perspective on just how much weight that is. The average weight of a man in America is 200 pounds. If humans had the ant's super ability, that'd equal the average man lifting 10,000 pounds, or casually picking up a full-size truck!! Ants are downright superheroes!

Ants don't have ears, yet they can hear. They listen by feeling vibrations through the ground with their feet. You've likely experienced this listening mechanism if you've ever played loud music; you can feel a vibration through a fixed surface.

The next time you encounter ants, think about all you've learned. Watch and critique just how hard they work!

TELL WHAT YOU ARE THINKING!

What are you thinking after reading this text?

I'm thinking that ants are more valuable and stronger than I knew.

What are you wondering as you are thinking about the text?

I wonder how many species of ants are in the United States.

UNDERSTANDING AUTHOR'S PURPOSE:

What is the author's purpose in the text? How do you know?	What other reasons do you think the author wrote this text?	Did the author teach you something new? Explain your answer.
The author's purpose is to inform because they give us so many captivating facts about ants.	I think the author wrote this so that we don't squish ants and we have a new perspective for them.	I did not know that there were over 12,000 species of ants in the world.

LESSON 1: AUTHOR'S PURPOSE- FICTION
BASIC LEVEL
1. INTRODUCTION: stay to group
"Today we're going to talk about the author's purpose. It's important for readers to be able to think about the author's purpose in texts they read so that they can really understand why the author wrote the text and what message he/she really wanted to send to us, the readers. The story we are going to read today is about two friends who see something crazy happen at the mall. They both cannot believe the drama and they learn a pretty important lesson. Let's read to find out what happens and think about the author's purpose."
TIER 2 WORDS:

2. READ THE TEXT:
I saw something crazy happen yesterday. It began like a normal Saturday. I woke up late. I was bored. I had an idea. I called my friend Jax. I asked her if she wanted to go to the mall. We liked to go to the mall. We never had any money. We did not buy anything. We just walked around and talked. We had a store we loved. It was our favorite. We went in and tried on all the new clothes. We pretended we were rich. We were not wealthy. We just put it all back after we had fun.
"Yes, Gia! I want to go to the mall!" Jax said on the phone. She was delighted.
We got to the mall. We walked to our favorite store. Then we saw the drama. We were shocked. There were 4 cops standing by our store. Two older kids were standing there. They looked guilty. The cops were digging in their backpacks. They found new clothes. The teenagers did not pay for them. They were stealing! Jax and I did not move. We were stunned.
Soon it was over. Jax and I made a promise. We told each other that we would never ever steal no matter what.
3. TALK ABOUT THE TEXT:
ask immediately after reading…
1. How are you feeling after reading this story? Why?
2. What is one question you have after reading?
4. TARGETED SKILL: Author's Purpose
Remind students author's purpose and then ask these questions…
1. What is the author's purpose in the story? How do you know?
2. What do you think the author is really trying to say in the story?
3. Did the author make the story exciting? Tell me more.
5. WORD WORK – Consonant Digraphs
Create chart for students and teach. Start with words from the text then invite students to help add more words they know to each list.

Lesson Breakdown:

 there is one fiction and one nonfiction passage that is adapted for each lesson.

Lesson 1: The basic fiction text.
Lesson 2: The average fiction text.
Lesson 3: The advanced fiction text.
Lesson 4: The basic nonfiction text.
Lesson 5: The average nonfiction text.
Lesson 6: The advanced nonfiction text.

How are the Lessons Different?

- Each lesson comes with a completely different set of tier 2 vocabulary focus words.
- It also includes a completely separate word work focus.
- The questions for focusing on the comprehension skill in step 4 are different for the advanced level.
- The passage changes in each of the three levels, adding sentence complexity, multi-meaning words and figurative language, along with new vocabulary.

PRO TEACHING TIP:

- If a group of students use the basic level and show success, the teacher can absolutely use the average level with that same group (since vocabulary, word work, and text complexity changes).
- They can even use the advanced level as well.
- They'd likely change the way in which the text was read in the group.
- For example, in the basic level the students may read silently after the introduction.
- In the average level they may choose to echo read.
- In the advanced level it may be teacher read.
- In fact, there is so much power in rereading and trying out new ideas and thinking each time.

Use the Different Levels with the Same Students!

Are you unsure whether your students are really* reading or simply trying to memorize words?

- The 2 passages (1 F, 1 NF) are specifically designed to answer this question!
- Begin with lesson 1 or 4 (the basic level). Have students read the passage after the introduction and complete the lesson.
- Use lesson 2 or 5 (the average level) with the same group. This may be the next day, week, or months later. Choose a reading format for step 2. This may be different than your first time reading.
- Because the tier 2 vocabulary and the complexity of the text changes, students will be forced to adjust their reading. Yes, the text is about 80% the same, but they will have to show that they can adapt to the changes when they reread the new version. There is POWER in rereading!
- When students are strong enough readers, try out lesson 3 or 6 (the advanced levels) with the group. It may be teacher-led reading, but the thinking after the new version of the text, the comprehension focus, and the new tier 2 vocabulary discussion will be even richer.

TEACHER CHALLENGE:

Consider these bullet points above when trying out the adjusted passage from the basic, average, to advanced level with a group of readers!

6 Steps in Small Group Reading Lessons:

Step	Time	Description	Tips:
1: The Introduction	2-3 minutes	The teacher shares helpful information with students about the text they are about to read and discuss. This is often planned in advance and designed to help students navigate their way through any potential places in the text where they may become stuck.	• Jot down a few sentences and plan to read them to the group. • Include a brief summary of what is about to be read. • Find a way to get students excited about reading the text. • Decode and define any vocabulary you believe the group may struggle reading. • Tell students to anticipate a group discussion after reading. • Instruct students what to do when finished reading.
2: Read the Text	3-4 minutes	The teacher decides how the group will engage in reading the text. Consult the 'How to Differentiate Within the Levels' page for ideas on which format you'll be reading the text with the group.	• Read the text in advance. Consider the needs and abilities of the readers when choosing how you will read the text. • If the text appears too challenging, it is still OKAY to use the text in a small group! Simply choose either teacher read or echo reading. The key is that students discuss and practice sharing their thinking after reading and consider the comprehension skill.
3: Talk About the Text	3-4 minutes	The teacher asks open-ended questions to the group immediately after reading. Do not skip this step! It's important to ask these questions immediately after reading so that you can see what exactly each reader is thinking about the text immediately after reading.	• Use student responses to drive your future instruction and answer reflective teaching questions like, "what are the readers noticing and what are they missing?" • Students can type responses into their student page while one or two answer aloud. • You can certainly have them type their answer and then turn in their student page after the lesson is complete. This is a great accountability check and gives you the opportunity to read everyone's thoughts, even if there is not enough time for each reader to share verbally during the group.
4: Targeted Skill	3-4 minutes	Now that you have heard what the students were thinking about the text immediately after reading, it's time to teach the targeted skill. Ask a few specific comprehension questions about the skill.	• Remind students what the skill is and define how readers use the skill. • Students can type responses into their student page while one or two answer aloud. • Pay attention to whether the students are mastering the skill or if they need more whole group, small group support.

6 Steps in Small Group Reading Lesson:

Step	Time	Description	Tips:
5: Word Work	2-3 minutes	The teacher will introduce either a spelling, phonics, grammar, or vocabulary activity. The teacher will begin building word work for students to see word patterns. Students will add ideas to each word pattern.	• Use an anchor chart to create the chart of word patterns. • Dry erase boards work too! • The teacher creates the chart, asking students to chime in and help build word patterns and understandings. • Keep this time brief and to the point so that you do not isolate words too much and take away from the meaning of the text as a whole.
6: Independent Practice	After the Lesson	The teacher will instruct students to complete the independent page after reading. Students will immediately apply the targeted skill into a text they are reading independently. They will submit their independent work to the teacher when complete.	• This is an excellent way to determine if students can apply the targeted skill into their own independent reading. • It works to differentiate, as students read books they have chosen based on preferences and ability. They can apply the skill into their own independent level. • Review the independent work, making teaching decisions on whether students need additional teaching support, or they have mastered the reading skill.
Total Time: 10-18 minutes

All of these steps are completely designed and prepared for you in each lesson!

How to Differentiate Within the Levels:

Don't skip this key step to ensure small group reading success!

BEFORE THE GROUP MEETS…

Decide how you will engage students in step 2, the reading of the text. This is KEY in ensuring reading success. Here's a quick guide to choosing which reading style you will use each time. Always consider the needs of the readers in the group as you decide.

Reading Style:	Description:	Times to Use this Reading Format:
Teacher Read	The teacher reads the text aloud to the small group while they follow along on the student page.	• When the text is too challenging for that group of students to read on their own, even with an introduction. • If time is short and the teacher would like to focus more on the comprehension portion than reading fluency practice.
Silent Read	The students read the text independently after they have heard the introduction and gone over the key vocabulary words. If a student finishes reading before others, that student is instructed to read the passage again until the group is ready to discuss.	• When the text is instructional and can be read successfully after an introduction. • When the text is at the students' independent reading levels. • When the teacher wants to conduct a running record or one-on-one reading time.
Partner Read	Students get together in a chat online or whisper read in person. One student reads the passage, then the other student reads the entire passage. Both students should read aloud the entire passage.	• When the text is instructional and can be read successfully after an introduction. • When asking students to share thinking with a partner. • When the teacher wants to be free to push in and listen to a partnership read together.
Choral Read	Reading aloud in unison with the whole class, in a small group, or with a partner. Use this strategy to build students' confidence, fluency, stamina, and reading motivation.	• When the text is too challenging for that group of students to read on their own, even with an introduction. • Use when there is a variety of readers in the group (some may be able to read the passage independently while others may need more support). • To keep all students in the group engaged and ensure that they read the entire passage. • To build reading stamina, confidence, fluency, and reading motivation.

Copyright: Out of This World Literacy (Jen Bengel)

Reading Style:	Description:	Times to Use this Reading Format:
Echo Read	Teacher reads a short section of text (paragraph or sentence) and the students read it back aloud together. Focus on rereading with the same fluency.	• When the text is too challenging for that group of students to read on their own, even with an introduction. • To practice reading accuracy, fluency, motivation, and confidence. • For a shared reading experience.
Silent Read Prep	Have students read silently before reading aloud to prep for strong reading fluency and expression.	• When the text is just a bit too challenging for that group of students to read on their own without practicing in advance. • To ensure the group is reading successfully. • To provide more than one opportunity to read the text in a small group time.
Rereading	Have students reread a text 2-3 times, focusing on fluency and expression each time.	• When the text is instructional and can be read successfully after an introduction. • When working to build writing stamina and confidence. • When looking to dig deeper below the surface of a text and ensure higher level thinking conversations after reading.
